BACKGROUND

In January 2007, the Department of Public Works began to develop an ethics pledge for Public Works managers and supervisors modeled after the City Commissioners’ Ethics Pledge and Mayor’s Executive Directive No. 1 (re-issued October 20, 2005). The purpose of a Departmental ethics pledge was to ensure that our current and newly appointed Public Works managers and supervisors understand the importance of exhibiting the highest standard of ethical behavior.

The Public Works Ethics Pledge for Managers and Supervisors should also serve as a tool to remind and reinforce the higher degree of ethical responsibility required of managers and supervisors and to support the Mayor’s commitment to the highest standard of ethics, honesty and integrity.

BUREAU RESPONSIBILITY

In an effort to confirm employees are aware of and abiding by the Department of Public Works Ethics Pledge, all current and new managers and supervisors are to sign the attached form acknowledging their compliance with this personnel directive. A copy should then be placed in the employees’ personnel file.

Bureau Directors should ensure a current copy of the “City of Los Angeles’ Code of Ethics” (see copy) is posted in all work locations. This document outlines the principles in which to guide the actions of all City employees and its prominent display will reinforce these values.
